Executive Summary

Purpose / Objectives:

The purpose of organizing a Basic Life Support (BLS) training program for Red Cross volunteers is to equip them with essential life-saving skills and knowledge to effectively respond to emergencies. The objectives include enhancing volunteers' proficiency in recognizing and managing cardiac and respiratory emergencies, performing CPR, and using automated external defibrillators (AEDs). Additionally, the training aims to improve their ability to stabilize patients until professional medical help arrives, thereby increasing the survival rate and outcomes of individuals in critical situations. This program will ensure that Red Cross volunteers are prepared, confident, and capable of providing immediate and effective assistance, ultimately strengthening the community's resilience in emergencies.

Key Highlights:

The highlight of the Basic Life Support (BLS) training program was an engaging session conducted by Dr. Nikhil Paul, Consultant Emergency Physician and Assistant Professor at Manipal Academy of Higher Education, India. Dr. Paul demonstrated crucial emergency techniques, including CPR, AED usage, and other vital life-saving procedures. His expertise and hands-on approach provided Red Cross volunteers with invaluable skills and confidence to effectively respond to cardiac and respiratory emergencies, significantly enhancing their ability to save lives in critical situations.

Attendee Summary:

The Basic Life Support (BLS) training program saw enthusiastic participation from both Red Cross Cell members and students, with a total of 77 attendees.

Outcome:

The Basic Life Support (BLS) training program concluded with participants demonstrating a marked improvement in their emergency response skills. Attendees reported increased confidence in performing CPR, using AEDs, and managing various emergency scenarios. The program successfully equipped 77 Red Cross Cell members and students with the knowledge and practical skills necessary to provide immediate and effective assistance in critical situations, thereby enhancing preparedness.

Feedback:

Participants provided constructive feedback, praising the Basic Life Support (BLS) training program for its comprehensive and hands-on approach. They appreciated Dr. Nikhil Paul's clear demonstrations and the practical sessions that allowed them to practice and refine their skills. Many highlighted the value of learning to use AEDs and performing CPR, noting an increase in their confidence to handle real-life emergencies. Suggestions for improvement included extending the duration of the practical sessions and incorporating more advanced emergency scenarios.

Executive Summary

Purpose / Objectives:

The "Educating Young Minds: Workshop on Advocacy, Leadership, and Justice" aims to empower youth by equipping them with essential knowledge and skills in advocacy, leadership, and justice. The workshop seeks to enhance participants' understanding of human rights and social justice, while developing their advocacy skills and highlighting the importance of legal frameworks in promoting these causes. Additionally, the workshop addresses youth crime and rehabilitation, offering insights into effective practices and the significance of community support.

Key Highlights:

In Session I, Adv. Swathi Shenoy highlighted the importance of integrating legal knowledge into school curriculums to ensure children understand their rights from an early age. She differentiated between legal advocacy and activism, emphasizing the need to practice and promote laws effectively. She also stressed the role of social media in driving positive societal change, citing examples like Greta Thunberg and the #MeToo movement, and noted how small movements on social platforms could gain global significance. Additionally, she stressed on the importance of people's protests, leadership skills, and policy reforms as crucial components of successful activism.

In Session II, Adv. Mrinal Chand M focused on the need to reform the treatment of individuals who are imprisoned and their families. He shared a poignant story about a child facing isolation due to his father's criminal background, highlighting the necessity for systemic change. He advocated for community sentences over short-term custodial sentences, using Scotland's success with community-based rehabilitation as an example. He also questioned the effectiveness of strict imprisonment, suggesting it often leads to aggressive tendencies and negative behaviors in offenders.

Attendee Summary:

Thirty-two students participated in this highly interactive workshop, engaging actively in discussions and activities throughout the sessions.

Outcome:

Participants gained a deeper understanding of human rights and social justice, learning to effectively practice and promote these principles through legal advocacy and activism. The workshop emphasized integrating legal knowledge into education, showcased the role of social media in societal change, and addressed the need for reform in the criminal justice system, advocating for community-based rehabilitation over strict imprisonment. The interactive sessions fostered active participation, equipping students with the confidence and tools to become proactive leaders and informed advocates for justice and human rights in their communities.

Feedback:

Participants praised the workshop for its engaging and interactive format, noting that the sessions were highly informative and practical. Participants appreciated the emphasis on integrating legal knowledge into education, as it provided them with a clearer understanding of their rights and how to advocate for them. The examples of successful social media movements were particularly inspiring, showing the real-world impact of advocacy. The discussions on criminal justice reform and community-based rehabilitation were eye-opening, prompting many to reconsider their views on imprisonment and rehabilitation.

SDM Law College, Mangaluru

News

Dept. Activity

Mangaluru, Aug 8: 'Educating Young Minds: Workshop on Advocacy, Leadership and Justice', was held here at SDM Law College on August 7.

The programme was organized by Red Cross Cell of the college.

Alumni Adv. Swathi Shenoy and Adv. Mrinal Chand M were the resource persons.

Session I: Youth Empowerment through Legal Advocacy and Activism

Adv. Swathi Shenoy emphasized the importance of both practicing and promoting laws, differentiating between legal advocacy and activism. She opined that legal knowledge should be integrated into school curriculums to ensure children understand their rights from an early age. This early education would help address issues such as domestic violence, sexual harassment more effectively.

She also highlighted the potential of social media as a tool for positive societal change, citing examples like Greta Thunberg, #MeToo Movement. She noted that small movements on social media could gain global significance and bring about substantial change. Additionally, she stressed the importance of people's protests, leadership skills, and policy reforms as crucial components of successful activism.

Session II: Youth, Crime and Rehabilitation: Rethinking Legal Approaches

Adv. Mrinal Chand M focused on the need to reform the treatment of individuals who are imprisoned and their families. He shared the story of a child who faced isolation and diminished life chances due to his father's criminal background, underscoring the need for systemic change.

He highlighted the effectiveness of community sentences over short term custodial sentences, using Scotland as an example where community sentences have shown greater success in rehabilitation. He opined that the notion of strict imprisonment transforming offenders should be reconsidered, as it can foster aggressive tendencies and negative behaviors in the future.

Assistant Professor Mohan Kumar K., Faculty Convenor of Red Cross Cell Amith S M., and Student Secretary Anjana K. were present.

Executive Summary

Purpose / Objectives:

Trekking in nature offers a profound connection to the environment, promoting physical fitness and mental well-being. It allows individuals to escape urban stress, experience the beauty and tranquillity of natural landscapes, and challenge themselves physically. This immersive activity fosters a sense of adventure, resilience, and appreciation for the natural world, contributing to overall health and personal growth.

Key Highlights:

The Netravati Peak Trek, located in Karnataka, India, is renowned for its breathtaking landscapes and rich biodiversity. Trekkers can enjoy panoramic views of the Western Ghats, lush green valleys, and the scenic beauty of the Netravati River. The trail passes through dense forests, coffee plantations, and picturesque villages, offering a diverse and immersive experience. The trek, moderately challenging, culminates at the peak, providing a stunning vantage point for sunrise and sunset. Along the way, trekkers may encounter a variety of flora and fauna, making it a paradise for nature enthusiasts and adventure seekers alike.

Attendee Summary:

The event was attended by a total of 65 people, comprising faculty members and students.
